

DEAR APPLICANTS!

For 70 years, the Faculty of History has been a center for the training of highly qualified specialists in the field of national and world history, archaeology and ethnology, museum studies and protection of monuments, archival and library studies.

In the first years, the faculty studied about 300 students, and taught by only 10 lecturers. Today the Faculty of History has three departments: History of Kazakhstan, World history, historiography and source studies, Archaeology, ethnology and museum studies. The staff potential of the faculty is 125 professors and teaching staff, who provide knowledge to 800 students, undergraduates, and doctoral students. In addition, at the faculty, there is an opportunity to exchange knowledge with leading higher educational institutions of the world, through a double degree program, joint educational programs, foreign internships and student mobility.

Along with this, the faculty has scientific schools of T.O. Omarbekov, K.T. Zhumagulov, B.B. Karibaev, V. Zaibert, K.S. Karazhan, Zh.K. Taimagambetov, K.M. Atabaev, U.Kh. Shalekenov, A.T. Toleubaev, which contributes to an increase in the role of students, undergraduates and doctoral students in the scientific life of the university.

Faculty of History graduates are in demand in science and education, in the field of diplomacy, administrative work, the armed forces, the Ministry of Internal Affairs, the National Security Committee. In the process of study, great attention is paid to conducting practical lessons directly in production, which contributes to their successful employment after graduation.

Dear Applicant! If you want to achieve a successful career and take place in life, choose the Faculty of History of Al-Farabi KazNU.

STUDENTS ABOUT OUR FACULTY

*Kenesov Akezhan
First year master student*

Student life should be remembered for vivid impressions and interesting events. After all, the university is a place where bright and unforgettable memories are found, where dreams come true, new ideas are born, where you find a large circle of friends and associates. A university is a place of great opportunities. This entire warm atmosphere is in the hands of the youth of KazNU.

As a student dean, my goal is to defend the honour of the faculty and raise it among other faculties of our university. To achieve this goal, I am ready for everything! After all, the Faculty of History is a leading, advanced center in the study of National history, archaeology and ethnology, archival and museum studies.

Emre Sevinch – Second year master student, specialty "Archeology and Ethnology"

As a master student at Gazi University (Turkey), I chose the topic of my dissertation work related to the archaeological sites of the Early Iron Age in Kazakhstan. That is why I came to Kazakhstan under the academic mobility program.

Kazakhstanis are very hospitable people, when I came to the Faculty of History, my groupmates and professors helped me a lot. In the beginning, I had language problems and needed help studying the literature on my research topic. I managed to master the language and collect the material I needed, and this is the great merit of my professors and groupmates. In addition, Al-Farabi KazNU allowed me to participate in scientific conferences and be acquainted with famous scientists of Kazakhstan.

The Faculty of History will remain the warmest and dearest faculty for me.
